OUR BRAND NEW IMPRINT HAS EVEN MORE GREAT BOOKS FOR KIDS!

We've always strived to bring you books that are of real benefit, whether offering practical help on improving the lives of you and your animals, or providing a better understanding of how animals experience the world, and us.

It's never too late to learn such values, and - just as importantly - it's never too early. And that's precisely where our new imprint comes in. Our new range of books for kids will champion the same values and standards that we've always held dear, but to the adults of the future. Children will love reading, or having these beautifully illustrated, carefully crafted publications read to them, absorbing valuable life lessons whilst being highly entertained. We've more great books already in the pipeline so remember to check out our website for details.

The author
