Animal magic!

The Hubble and Hattie imprint was launched in late 2009, with the publication of its first book, and is named in memory of two very special Westies owned by Veloce's proprietors.

Since then, many more books have been added to the list; all with the same underlying objective: to be of real benefit to the species they cover, whilst also promoting compassion, understanding and respect between all animals (including human ones!).

All Hubble and Hattie books have high quality content, presentation and production, and – because of their competitive pricing – also offer terrific value for money.

Coming soon: Office Dogs: The Manual – the definitive guide on how to integrate your dog into office life; The Complete Book of Cat & Dog Health – a definitive and comprehensive guide to 21st century health care for cats and dogs – written by a veterinarian, and the first of its kind, the ground-breaking Wildlife photography from the edge: powerful words from the heart and striking wildlife images – photography for total wellbeing.

AND MORE GREAT BOOKS FROM OUR NEW KIDS! IMPRINT –

Because this is our home ... the story of a cat's progress

Mary Dowson

Rescued from certain death by John, Julius lives with him and his family through the dangers and privations of WW2. Rather than share his home and beloved family with a most unwelcome arrival – a dog – Julius decides to follow the Gladlight, wherever it leads. On his last, momentous odyssey, brave Julius has many adventures, coming face-to-face with the injustices and ambiguities of life from an animal's perspective. By the time he reaches his final destination, Julius is a wise and philosophical cat, with a message to pass on ...

The (supposedly) enlightened person's guide to raising a dog

Kac Young & Lisa Tenzin-Dolma
Foreword by Marc Bekoff PhD

After years as a 'cat person,' Kac Young unexpectedly fell in love with rescue dog Talulah. This unique book describes Kac's progression from slightly shell-shocked beginner to savvy, adoring dog guardian.

From the start, Kac consulted behaviourist Lisa Tenzin-Dolma on all things canine, and Lisa's keen observations and guidance follow Kac's stories, so that those with little experience of living with a dog can get started on the right foot (and paw), and build a loving, trusting relationship.

Entertaining and informative, this book will appeal to both new and seasoned dog guardians.

Three quite very actual cheers for Worzel Wooface

Catherine Pickles

Now in his third year with his forever family, Worzel's horizons are expanding. When the council tries to take away his favourite beach, Worzel and his family mount a campaign to save it; there's a foreign trip to plan for; a ball-obsessed Labrador to contend with, and a foster brother who needs teaching in the ways of the world.

Mum, long-suffering Dad, five cats, and two really nearly grown up children feature in Worzel's third literary offering, bringing together poems, letters and advice that could only come from Worzel Wooface!

★★★★★ Amazon reviews

"Worzel Wooface just gets better and better. I really cannot wait to read the next chapter in this truly wonderful dog's life. You feel part of his loving family. Sometimes funny; sometimes sad, but like all families full of ups, downs, love and laughter"

"... part of the [royalty] money is helping the shelter that Worzel actually came from.
Recommend to all animal lovers"

"Cleverly observed; written with sensitivity and humour"

"Once started, it was so difficult to put down. Thank you, Worzel (and Catherine) for letting us share your ups and downs, and making us laugh"

"... also an exploration of human frailty, depression, achievement, courage, strength and joy ... about unconditional love and an intimate acceptance that dogs think differently.

The World's Ace Woofer Does It Again! The third volume of the internationally acclaimed Lurcher Chronicles surpasses its predecessors. Live and laugh with Worzel! Learn to speak Lurcher, too!" – Geelong Obedience Dog Club

"Very very funny throughout, but also totally real and true to life ... beautiful pictures enhance the stories. Yet again an excellent paperback from Hubble & Hattie, and an absolute bargain at £9.99" – Dog Training Weekly

The eagerly-awaited fourth instalment from Worzel, the literary Lurcher is funny, touching, honest ... and very real.

For the quite very actual love of Worzel

Catherine Pickles

Now in his fourth year with his forever family, life is changing for Worzel. As the children grow up and begin to spread their wings, Worzel's world should be more peaceful.

Mum, long-suffering Dad, five cats and two grown-up children all feature in Worzel's fourth diary, bringing together poems, letters and advice that Worzel's beginning to wonder if it's even worth offering any more.

But, as life rolls on, a changing of the guard brings new challenges; challenges no-one seems ready to embrace, least of all the cats ...

Your dog and you ... Understanding the canine psyche

Gill Garratt

Just how successful is the bond between man and dog is affected by a dog's ability to 'read' us and our moods, so the more we understand about our own behaviour, the better we can influence our dog's responses. The anxieties of an owner can be reflected in their dog's behaviour, and the same is true of a calm, even-tempered owner. Man's best friend needs us to be our own best friend.

This ground breaking book – with specially-commissioned images – will show you how.

HUBBLE & HATTIE

Our brand new imprint has even more great books for kids!

We've always strived to bring you books that are of real benefit, whether offering practical help on improving the lives of you and your animals, or providing a better understanding of how animals experience the world, and us.

It's never too late to learn such values, and - just as importantly - it's never too early. And that's precisely where our new imprint comes in. Our new range of books for kids will champion the same values and standards that we've always held dear, but to the adults of the future. Children will love reading, or having these beautifully illustrated, carefully crafted publications read to them, absorbing valuable life lessons whilst being highly entertained. We've more great books already in the pipeline so remember to check out our website for details.

HUBBLE & HATTIE

Worzel says hello! Will you be my friend? is our very first Kids! book, and was published in September 2017.

Author Catherine Pickles is Mum to Worzel Wooface, the enormous Lurcher with 'issues,' who has become a bit of a literary legend (see his books on pages 31-33). Catherine has designed the books in this new series to help children and dogs have a great time together throughout their lives, and other titles will cover everyday events such as mealtimes, going on holiday, visits to the vet, etc.

Perfectly illustrating the stories, Chantal Bourgonje's beautiful watercolour images have been created exclusively for each rhyme. The second book in the series - Worzel goes for a walk! Will you come too? - is now available too! (see page 44).

Children and dogs can be the best of friends, and good for each other in so many ways.

Sadly, though, dogs are often misunderstood by both adults and children, and their behaviour misread.

Worzel Says Hello! is the first in a new series of delightful educational and fabulously illustrated guides to understanding how dogs think, feel and behave, so that all children can have a wonderful relationship with the dogs in their lives, and all dogs can feel happy, safe, and loved.

The information presented in this book is endorsed by dog trainers, parents and teachers alike, and is an essential addition to every classroom, library, and child's bookshelf.

Reviews for Worzel says hello!

"The paw prints on the cover invite small hands to pick up this fabumazing jewel ... an accurate, aesthetic artistic, literary delight! Hubble & Hattie has set a formidable benchmark for canine educators opting for the popular picture storybook format"
– Geelong Obedience Dog Club

★★★★★ Amazon reviews

"This book is an absolute delight, and the message it delivers in such a charming, gentle, down to earth and very sensible way. As for the illustrations ... suffice to say they did bring a lump to my throat"

"They will love it ... the 7-year-old will be reading it to the 2-year-old I am sure!"

"This lovely book turned up today, and me and my 6-year-old read it instantly, and fell in love with it. Simple wording for children and perfect illustrations"

"This book is excellent for teaching children and adults alike how to behave around dogs. The illustrations are exquisite"

"This book is brilliant. Easy to read for the small ones just learning, or for someone to read it to them"

"An excellent book. Gently shows children how to approach dogs, but also creates a lovely short story with a great rhythm to the words"

Who's afraid of the Fierce Grey Mouse ...?

The enchanting story of Little Grey Mouse who desperately wants to be fearsome and strong. He does his exercises, eats his porridge, drinks all of his milk – and, soon enough, Little Grey Mouse grows to be fierce.

But, roaring and pouncing from his perch high up in a tree, Fierce Grey Mouse accidentally scares away all of his friends.

Fierce Grey Mouse soon realises the importance of friendship and being true to yourself: the message of the story.

Beautifully written and illustrated by the highly-regarded children's illustrator Chantal Bourgonje, this book is a delight that young children and their parents can share and enjoy.

Six kids ... one
challenge!

An exciting action adventure romp, exploring environmental destruction, homelessness, politics, animal welfare, and disability, as six ordinary children battle to promote kindness and compassion over cruelty and greed, aided by a hapless Guardian Angel.

Calling themselves the Indigo Warriors, the children have meetings, argue a lot, often come to wrong conclusions ... and find themselves in danger at the hands of a criminal gang.

Who will help
Little Lost
Doggie?

Doggie is found by Lily, the Golden Retriever, under a hedge.

Though apparently unloved, unclaimed, and even bullied while unable to defend himself, Doggie finds his world wonderfully changed by fabulous friends and amazing adventures that take him, with Lily and his new forever family, to Buckingham Palace to be rewarded for helping others.

A heart-warming story for children, this is a tale of friendship, bravery, and kindness.

Where will Little House find a home?

A cheeky and plucky little house doesn't have a place to live. So he packs his bag, and he and his best friend, Bear, set off into the big wide world to find themselves their 'forever home.'

Along the way they encounter lots of interesting characters: some nice, some sad, and some very rude indeed!

Feeling lost and alone, the Little House doesn't give up. And just when we think that he and Bear will never find somewhere to belong, something surprising turns up.

The story of the Little House is told in clever, engaging and amusing rhyme. The illustrations are beautifully detailed and well observed, and include caricatures of high-rise flats, country mansions, floaty boats, and a very busy, whizzy caravan.

Children and adults alike will love The Little House that didn't have a home.

Join Horace and Nim and their forest friends having fun!

It's a windy autumn day and the forest friends are out catching falling leaves for luck. Nim wants to break his all-time record of five lucky leaves before tea time. But the more leaves he catches the more accidents he seems to have catching them. And then Kay accidentally hurts Nim's feelings.

Forget breaking records, will Nim survive until tea time?

With gentle humour, this lovely book deals with the themes of friendship, kindness, and caring for nature, at the same time encouraging an interest in nature and the outside world.

☆☆☆☆ Amazon reviews

"Very nicely written and the illustrations are wonderful"

"This book is great for encouraging children to use their imagination. The characters show children how making up outdoor games can be huge fun, like aiming for a personal best of catching 5 lucky autumn leaves before teatime. Others try but when they don't catch even one leaf, they show the aim was really to have fun. The story also shows how friends help each other. Delightful"

How will the wildebeest cross the crocodile-infested river ...?

The Wandering Wildebeest tells the story of the animals' massive annual migration across the African plains in search of food and water. In the blistering heat, our heroes keep on walking over the parched, dusty ground in their quest to find lush grassland to graze upon.

Having faced starvation, exhaustion and dehydration, they finally see a happy, grazing herd of buffalo in the distance! But in order to reach the grassland, the wildebeest have one more dangerous challenge ahead – to cross the deep, wide river filled with crocodiles!

Written in humorous rhyme and including off-the-wall characters and scenarios, Martin Coleman's funny, silly story, accompanied by Tim Slater's stunning and hilarious illustrations will both educate and entertain children of all ages, (and we think the grown-ups will enjoy it, too!)

Walk with Worzel!

Beautifully illustrated by Chantal Bourgonje, this is the story of a child and a dog going for a walk, told from the dog's point of view in an easy-reading rhythmical style.

As explained by Worzel, an enormous Lurcher with 'issues,' new experiences can be very scary for him, although he really, really does want to go on exciting walks. The original and engaging illustrations will delight both children and adults, as well as educate, showing them the secret language of dogs, and will help children learn how to walk dogs in a safe and responsible way so that it is a positive experience for everyone.

The information presented in this book is endorsed by dog trainers, parents and teachers alike, and is an essential addition to every classroom, library and child's bookshelf.
